Les jardins suspendus de Marqueyssac

BELVÈDÈRE DE LA DORDOGNE

Marqueyssac is one of the most beautiful romantic gardens of France and today the most visited garden in Périgord.

Listed as a national historical monument thanks to its 54 acres park, Marqueyssac's gardens offer more than 6 kilometres of shaded paths in a maze of 150 000 hand-pruned boxwoods.

From the belvedere, at 130 meters above the Dordogne river, you will see the most spectacular panorama in Périgord. This is the testimony of a rich bygone history and a gorgeous natural heritage. It's also an exceptional Dordogne valley point of view, you will see its most beautiful villages : Domme, Castelnaud, Beynac, Fayrac, La Roque-Gageac and its castles.

Two ways of visit

The visit is fitted out for your pleasure. You should particularly appreciate the moments of peace and calm in the green areas near the waterfalls or the new waterway.

Individual visit (1h30):

All along the walking ways, signs and panels have been put in place to put into relief the panorama and the beauty of the Dordogne valley, its geography, its history, and the life of its inhabitants. At the same time you could discover the nature through illustrated messages which give short information on the park main animals and plants species.

Guided tour (35 min):

It's in addition to the individual visit. It takes place around the house and it gives the groundings for better understanding the site : its history, its evolution, the upkeep of boxwoods and the restoration work which has begun in 1996.
